MAINTENANCE SERVICES

ASM Assembly Systems Precision Swabs are designed, manufactured and packaged to provide high quality, economical solutions for various cleaning and maintenance requirements in SMT applications, cleanroom applications, and anywhere that cleaning is directly related to accuracy.

We have carefully selected a variety of materials to meet a range of cost and performance requirements. Most feature swab tips that are heat sealed on to the handles to avoid contamination and material compatibility issues associated with many adhesives. The handles are either manmade or natural materials selected to provide the best flexibility and durability. These high quality swabs are tested and approved by ASM Assembly Systems, to deliver the best possible results.

Foam Swabs

The foam swab is an excellent general-purpose swab for cleaning small and confined areas. Its laundered foam head possesses good absorbing capacity and cushioning. A compact, rigid handle and round internal head core provide firm support.
